Lightweight

Because of the materials used to make the rake, not only is it extremely durable, it's also very lightweight. With our heaviest model weighing in at about 2 pounds, it's far less cumbersome than most other rakes on the market today. With the fiberglass handle and no break co-polymer head it makes this rake almost impossible to destroy. The swivel hanger at the end of the rake makes it easy to hang on any hook out of the way when not in use.

No Down Pressure Needed / Easy On Your Back

The aggressive angle to which the tines are formed makes the rake dig right in without the need for pushing down on it—thus allowing "no down pressure"; permitting you to stand straight up while using the rake and makes it much easier on your back. With the pressure off your back this rake allows you to work longer and accomplish more with less effort than you need to exert with other rakes.
